1. In the friend list screen, we changed the way about how we show people who are talking with others. Now, you can see how many people are in his/her group chat, but you can't know exactly who is he/she talking with.
2. One more thing, if you want talk with a friend, such as talk with the yellow one.

3. After you get connect with your friend, you need to make a choose: whether your chatting is a private or public chat.

4. We also add a ring light around our device. So, when you choose to make your group chat to Public, the light will turn green to indicate that. (Same color with the public button) If a group chat is public, everyone on your friend list can see you and know how many people are you chatting with.

5. If you want have a private talking with your friend(s), you should choose Private, so no one can see you and other people who are in your group chat in their friend list. The ring light will turn yellow.
